MAM'S REMARKABLE 2012/13 SEASON

of exhibitions and programs was made possible by a generous program grant from the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation and by record-breaking support from our members and patrons. MAM's most ambitious Annual Campaign goal of $230,000 was met. The Engelhard Foundation generously rewarded MAM with $50,000 for meeting the challenge of raising $100,000 in new or increased support from donors over the past two years. This good faith effort was led by Co-Chairs Brian Sippy (Board Member) and Teresa Henry (MAM #1 Fan) and managed by Kay Grissom-Kiely, Development Director, who left the post to pursue other dreams.

MAM demonstrated its commitment to contemporary artists in the state with the Montana Triennial: 2012, a wide-ranging exhibition celebrating new art in Montana and accompanied by a catalog, made possible with a grant from the Montana Cultural Trust. We are saddened, however, by the passing of Montana Triennial guest curator Keith Wells at the age of 50. Keith was the Curator at Washington State University Museum in Pullman, WA and a well-loved colleague who will be sorely missed.

Selected Works from the Susan and Roy O'Connor Collection was an outstanding international showcase of pioneers in contemporary art. We are grateful to the O'Connors for the opportunity to show these works and for their subsequent gift to MAM's collection of Ursula Von Rydinsvard's signature sculptural work Poskubanna.

MAM commissioned three site-specific installations that successfully transformed the exhibit spaces and enveloped the viewer: Terry Karson: Commons, Gerri Saylor: Evanescent, and Gary Horinek: The Gathering. These intensive projects were generously funded by the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation. Dwayne Wilcox: Above the Fruited Plains was among the most popular exhibitions ever presented in the Lynda M. Frost Contemporary American Indian Gallery, and a grant from the Pleiades Foundation, combined with a gift from the artist, allowed MAM to acquire twelve of these witty and poignant drawings for the collection.

Artini, the hip, happening for the young professional, was brought to a close after a seven-year run. Conceived and managed by the hard-working and dedicated Artini Committee, the monthly (then quarterly) event enlivened MAM and broadened both our audience and membership significantly. Major sponsorship from First Interstate Bank sustained Artini and allowed it to thrive. Hundreds of artists contributed their talents, creating musical and theatrical performances and outrageously fun crafting and art-making workshops. There were always wildly creative, yummy treats thanks to the generous contributions first from 515 restaurant, then Red Bird Wine Bar & Restaurant, and finally James Bar. Other local businesses too numerous to mention contributed prizes and coupons for Artini's happy attendees. Thank you to everyone who made this marvelous event possible.

A heartfelt thanks to all of the supporters, staff, volunteers, and exhibiting artists who helped make MAM's 38th year of free expression and free admission a great one.

EXHIBITION CURATOR // Stephen Glueckert

When surveying the lists of exhibitions and artists, it is important to realize that over 270 artists were involved in exhibitions during the reporting period. MAM maintained an aggressive schedule that facilitated 27 exhibitions and mounted five traveling and off-site exhibitions. By examining the exhibitions listed one can gain insight into the nature and spirit of the institution and identify individuals of national and international reputation. Within the 27 exhibitions hosted by MAM, the vast majority of artists hailed from the immediate region. The mix and variety of contemporary expressions continues to reflect the character of the institution. The mission states, "MAM serves the public by engaging audiences and artists in the exploration of contemporary art relevant to the community, state and region." This statement guides and provides parameters for exhibitions and artists.

Acquisitions

For FY 2012, 14 individual acquisitions occurred involving a total of 85 artworks. Of the 14 acquisitions, 12 were outright gifts; the remaining 2 consisted of a Pleiades Foundation grant-funded acquisition and a purchase by the Contemporary Collectors Circle.

Collection Exhibits

MAM showcased the permanent collection with 174 works displayed in 15 exhibits over the year, including collection works in 3 off-site shows at Bonner School's 8th Annual Hooked on Art, the Missoula County Public Library, and a long-term display decorating the walls of the City of Missoula's Development Services. Textiles from the collection continue to grace the halls of Partnership Health Center West at the Old Creamery building, even as they go through a massive building expansion, and two large Walter Hook watercolors join other Hooks on display in the City Council chambers.

Collection Lending

MAM lent a total of 5 artworks to 3 institutions, including a Patrick Zentz microenvironment to the Paris Gibson Square in Great Falls, three Hmong Textiles to the Art Mobile of Montana, and a Marie Watt textile to the Hallie Ford Museum in Salem, OR for Watt's retrospective that also traveled to the Tacoma Art Museum.

MAM COLLECTIONS // Ted Hughes

The Missoula Art Museum's Permanent Collection continued strong growth throughout the year with the addition of 85 artworks, bringing the total number of collection works to over 1,600. Media gifted this year include painting, ceramic, sculpture, high craft, photography, drawing, and printmaking.

Steering MAM's Permanent Collection is the museum's Collection Committee, to whom we are deeply grateful. Consisting of staff, board members, and volunteers from the community, the Collection Committee ensures MAM meets the highest standards of quality and ethics, and follows the collection mission to "Collect, preserve, exhibit, and research art that is relevant to the culture of the American West with an emphasis on contemporary Montana artists."

Thanks again to all who have participated in growing a beautiful and important permanent collection of artworks for our community.

EDUCATION // Renée Taaffe

MAM's education program fulfills the institution's mission to engage audiences and artists in the exploration of contemporary art by providing free tours, lectures, programs by visiting artists, a rich variety of art instruction for all ages, and scholarships and outreach to underserved children. Tours to school and community groups are always free and are led by a MAM staff member or a trained Art Guide to deepen understanding and bring a high level of engagement to the art viewing experience. Classes and workshops are taught by professional artists living in our community or by visiting artists exhibiting at MAM. During the past year MAM offered seven Teen Artist Workshops, a free opportunity for teens to work with a variety of artists and become familiar with a range of different artists' mediums and styles. In addition, every year MAM offers the Fifth Grade Annual Art Experience, serving area fifth graders by inviting their classes to the museum for a guided tour and enriching art project. This program is generously supported in part by the Art Associates of Missoula.

This year, as a result of a grant awarded to MAM to promote Indian Education for All, MAM brought 150 fourth grade students to the museum to meet and work with Salish Kootenai artist Corwin Clairmont. The program was enriched by collaboration with the Missoula Writing Collaborative who offered poetry instruction to the students as they viewed the art work of Contemporary American Indian Art. Students then came to the Museum to meet and make prints with artist Clairmont.

In addition, since 1998 MAM has partnered with Missoula County Public Schools and the Flagship Program to offer free after-school art classes to three of Missoula's Title I schools. Last year MAM served Franklin, Hawthorne, and CS Porter Schools, with support from a 21st Century Learning Center Grant.

Learning is an ongoing event at MAM, whether it is through the experience of looking at our tremendous exhibitions, listening to an artist's talk, or learning a new art skill. MAM provides countless ways for all visitors to be lifelong learners.
